The Program may look like it is structured minute to minute but this is not the intention. It is a way for a flow of participation and contributions from everyone.

RESEARCH LAB – is an opportunity to share processes you have done or are working with and would like to tell about or demonstrate and receive feed-back, or take deeper as a research process together with others.

ARTISTIC GROUP WORK – time for non-verbal activity, giving expression in clay of your experiences, with exchange or feed-back from observers, and eventual transformation artistically.

The organisers hope to create open space for many levels of real dialogue. To help these processes we ask you to consider what you could offer for Labs and tell us in advance before 1st of October so the program can find its final form accordingly.
